Anglo-American Conversations To Start In Gloom

British Unhappy At Necessity Of Meeting Snyder

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Preliminary Anglo-American talks on Britain's economic crisis will open here this week in an atmosphere of bitterness and gloom.

American officials said it would require some notable feat of statesmanship to prevent the conference from hurtling instead of improving British-American relations. The conference will reach a climax early next month.

Among other things the British say they take a dim view of the appointment of Secretary of the Treasury Snyder to head up the American delegation for the main, second stage of the negotiations which will open Sept. 6 or 7. They say they would have preferred Secretary of State Acheson.

State department officials counter by saying Acheson and British Foreign Minister Bevin will in fact probably hold the most important of the conversation—covering the whole range of U. S.-British relations—entirely outside the economic negotiations. The latter will be conducted by Snyder and Britain's chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Stafford Cripps.

Actually, the preliminary talks will be highly important. They will discuss what specific proposals the British have in mind to deal with their dollar and gold shortages and what measures the United States also is considering.

It is in connection with these proposals that the bitterness has been built up. American officials believe the British negotiators are coming here with hands outstretched for another round of American help.

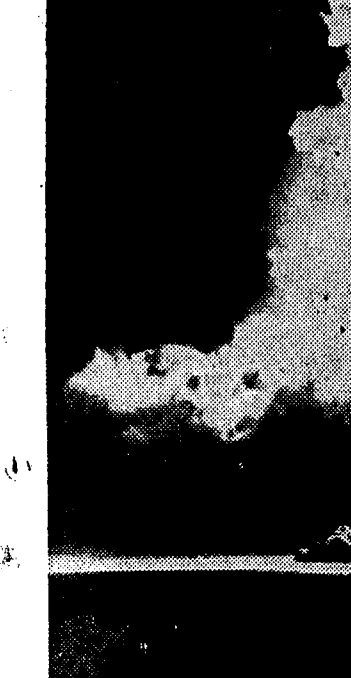

American officials have not displayed any particular enthusiasm for such British aid. It is partly because they believe Britain's troubles must be solved by major internal moves and partly because they foresee trouble in getting any British aid measures through congress.

Hundreds Battle Forest Fires In Western States

By The Associated Press. Hundreds of fire fighters battled flames in national forest areas of six Western states today. At least six major fires were still out of control. Three in the Fayette National Forest of Central Idaho and three in Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming.

Four crewmen were hospitalized, one in California and three in Idaho. More than 300 lightning-caused fires, most of them small, covered an estimated 33,000 acres of timber and grass lands in the drought-stricken forests.

Winds that caused fires to flare out of control Saturday had died down yesterday, and in Idaho, a light overcast raised the humidity last night. Weather will be the major factor in bringing the fires under control, James Hockaday, forester from the regional forest service fire control office at Ogden, Utah, said today.

Western Union Is Enjoined Against Serving Bookies

Five Percenter Probers Aided By Soldier's Letter

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(AP)—A secret letter beginning "Dear Pop" is shedding new light on the perfume oil and home freezer aspects of the five percenter inquiry. Senator Mundt (R-SD) said today.

The letter was written by a former member of the armed services to his father, who turned it over to Mundt. The South Dakota lawmaker is a member of the special senate subcommittee checking on whether improper influence has figured in the handling of government business.

Mundt declined to discuss the contents of the letter in any detail. He did describe it as a significant eye-witness account "of something which took place which appears to have an important bearing on matters we have been investigating."

The letter ties in with the whole chain of events dealing with the presentation of home freezers to prominent people in Washington and the subsequent activities of representatives of the perfume company which paid for the freezers.

Mundt said the youth who wrote the letter either will be called to testify at the Senate public hearings, to be resumed tomorrow, or will be questioned privately.

Mundt declined to name the boy or his father.

The committee has been told that seven home freezers presented to Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan and other Washington notables in 1945 were paid for by the Albert Verley Co., a Chicago perfume oil firm.

Vaughan is President Truman's military aide.

The committee also has received testimony that, likewise in 1945, Maragon and a third Verley company agent got government clearance for a business trip to Paris in an army plane. They arrived on the heels of liberating troops.

Jack Roberts in 126th District Court at request of Attorney General Price Daniel who simultaneously brought suit for a permanent injunction.

Hearing in the case was set for Sept. 1 at 10 a. m.

The State's suit alleged that Coggins is doing business under the name of Texas Daily Sports News, with headquarters in Houston.

He has an exclusive agreement with Western Union, the suit charged, for transmission of racing information gathered from the tracks throughout the nation over its wires in Texas.

The action followed Saturday's announcement by Daniel and Department of Public Safety Assistant Director Joe Fletcher of an organized state crackdown against bookmaking in Texas.

The State's petition asked for an injunction stopping Western Union from using its wires, lines, equipment and facilities "in transmitting, receiving and delivering horse racing information for or to A. G. Coggins, doing business as Texas Daily Sports News, or for any other person or persons within the State of Texas, to be used for the support of betting or wagering money on horse racing."

That Coggins be stopped by injunction from alleged use of Western Union or any other facilities for such purposes also were asked.

Daniel alleged that as a result of the agreement between Western Union and Coggins, 10 separate racing news ticker machines were installed at Texas points, and that information received over these machines was being communicated direct from them to bookmakers and gambling houses by private telephone and loud speaker systems.

Nationalists Of China Claim Big Gain Over Reds

CANTON, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The Nationalists claimed more success today on the vital central China front, as they pushed the Communists back toward the sea.

The government asserted a Red thrust to cut the Canton-Hankow railway and isolate the Hunan province defense bastion of Hengyang had been thrown back.

Not only had threat to the vital Canton-Hengyang communications been removed—for the moment at least—but Gen. Pai Chung-hsi's Eastern flank was temporarily out of danger.

The Nationalists said they beat back Red Gen. Lin Piao's attempt to take Linyang, 230 miles north of Canton, after his forces had bypassed Pai's Central China defense headquarters at Hengyang, 35 miles farther north.

The government counterattack carried 30 miles northeast of Linyang to recapture Anjen, which guards Pai's eastern flank, it was reported.

This operation put one division of Lin's 45th Red army into retreat and two regiments were wiped out, the Nationalists said.

Yugoslav Quarrel With Russia Gets To Hotter Point

Belgrade Counters U.S.S.R. Threat With Accusation

LONDON, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The white hot war of words between Yugoslavia and Russia grew more intense today as Marshal Tito's supporters hurled defiant countercharges at the Soviets.

In answer to a Russian threat to take "effective measures" to protect Russian citizens in Yugoslavia, the Yugoslav Communist Orkan Borba accused the Soviet of using these citizens as spies.

Borba, mouthpiece of Tito's government, said the Russian note was full of "vile language, insults and threats" and was delivered in an insulting fashion. The Russian protest was delivered to a doorman at the Yugoslav foreign ministry at 5 a. m.

Yugoslavia also replied yesterday to a Soviet note of Aug. 11 which said Yugoslavia was an enemy of the Soviet Union.

The Yugoslav reply to her erstwhile Cominform mentor accused Russia of a double-cross in dropping her support of Yugoslav claims for Austrian territory.

The feud between the Russians and Tito dates back to June, 1948, when the Yugoslav Reds were thrown out of the Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) for deviation from Moscow-type Marxism. The Yugoslavs were charged with anti-Soviet nationalism.

The split has widened perceptibly since Tito's refusal to accept a public boycott by the Cominform nations, has made overtures to the west for money and supplies.

Tito has steadfastly refused to knuckle under to the Kremlin and has publicly warned that his army is prepared to fight any invader.

The latest Yugoslav report to Moscow and the Borba editorial were made public here by Tanjug, the official news agency.

The note said the Kremlin had sold out Yugoslav claims to Carinthia, a part of Southern Austria which has a large Slovene population, in order to get the Communists to agree to Russian claims to German assets in Austria.

Saturday's Russian note on Yugoslavia was published in the world.

Polio Cases For Nation Increase During Past Week

By The Associated Press. The number of new cases of infantile paralysis took a sharp upward turn last week, boosting the nation's total of victims for the month to more than 8,000.

It brought the total for the year to 15,500, compared with only 8,430 cases reported by the national office of vital statistics through Aug. 18 of 1948, a record year.

Last year's 27,800 total was exceeded only by the 30,000 in the 1916 record year.

In an Associated Press survey, North Dakota reported the disease as an epidemic state here last week and said the state urgently needed more nurses.

Navarro County Produces One Of Its Biggest Crops

Navarro county is producing in 1949 one of the greatest crops in history—taking into consideration the fine yields and excellent prices prevailing for all types of products featured here.

The cotton crop outlook is better than last year, W. H. Walker, county agent, announced Monday. The cotton production last year was slightly in excess of 49,000 bales and the county agent thinks that with the 10 percent increase in acreage over 1948, the yield this year will be between 55,000 and 60,000 bales.

"The prospects now are not as good as they were July 1," Walker pointed out, "due to bacterial blight, especially in the Kereas and Elm Flat areas, and cotton root rot throughout the county."

All of the gins in the county have started and the picking season should be in full swing by next week.

"Crops are maturing earlier than the average," Walker added, "due to less insect damage early in the season and more favorable growing conditions."

Walker estimated that the peak of the picking season would be about September 10 and additional pickers will be needed at that time. There is not a shortage at the present time, he said.

There has been quite a bit of insect damage, but in the areas that followed early season control measures (poisoning) there has been little insect damage.

"The value of winter legumes has definitely been shown this year in increased yields on depleted soils," Walker said.

Corn—harvest well under way with yields up to 60 bushels per acre reported—with an estimated average of 30 bushels per acre for the county—large acreage. (The 20 year average corn production in Navarro county is 14.1-2.7 bushels per acre reported—average bushels per acre—small acreage this year.)

Row stuff—Excellent yield—small acreage. Hay—Excellent crop of alfalfa, Johnson grass, Hubam clover, sudan, etc.

Pastures—Excellent and still green—generally on this date pastures are burned and dead—Live-stock is in excellent condition throughout the county.

Gen. Spaatz Cites B-36 Bomber As Force For Peace

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Gen. Carl Spaatz, retired air force chief, said today the B-36 bomber and the atomic bomb are the greatest forces for peace in the world.

It was because he anticipated that the B-36 could play this role, Spaatz said, that he decided in late 1948 or early 1947 to push the air force program of acquiring the planes.

No outside influence affected his decision, he said.

In terms of wars of the past, he said, Russia could subdue "practically all of Europe and Asia in a relatively short period of time" but the B-36 and the bomb maintain "a balance of power for peace."

The general was called before the house armed services committee in its inquiry into whether political influence or favoritism figured in developing the big, six-engine B-36.

Spaatz said that when he commanded the air forces he made a practice of continuing a contract for 100 B-36's let in 1943. His decision was made around December 1946 or January 1947.

"I believed," Spaatz said in a prepared statement, "that the results to be obtained from possession of the B-36 would be far greater than those obtainable from possession of the B-29."

Factions In Dock Strike In Hawaii Asked To Go East

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The government today asked representatives of opposing sides in the 114-day-old Hawaiian dock strike to come to Washington or New York for mediation talks.

Cyrus S. Ching, director of the U. S. conciliation service, cabled the striking union and Hawaiian stevedoring negotiating committee to meet with them in either city.

Communist Strike Drive In Finland Losing Momentum

HELSINKI, Finland, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The Communist strike offensive against the Finnish government lost momentum again today as workers apparently remained dead to Red piers for further work.

Although the Transport Workers Union called a strike for this morning, traffic was normal.

The Communist timetable had called for more than 100,000 of Finland's 300,000 unionized workers to be on strike today in what was an attempt to prepare for a Communist coup.

The government has not yet been able to compile an official report on the number who actually have left work, but employer estimates gave the total at 27,000.

Wood workers also scheduled a walkout for today but the effectiveness of that strike was not known immediately.

The strike threat generally appeared to have been overcome by the combined firm efforts of the Social Democratic (Socialist) government of Premier Karl A. Fagerholm and the loyal Central Trade Union Federation.

Strikers in many industries were reported streaming back to work. These included bakers, brewery workers, dock workers, lumbermen and log floaters.

The waning strike movement drew strong comment from Finland's Communist press.

The official Red party organ, Tykkanen Sanomat, yesterday charged police action against the strikers was aimed at preparing for war against the Soviet Union.

He said if they are again unsuccessful at reaching an agreement they could come to the States and meet with him and other government mediators any time they choose.

President Makes Plea To Veterans For His Program

Chief Executive Is Miami Visitor To Deliver Address

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 22.—(AP)—President Truman fought back today against advocates of a cut in his $1,450,000,000 foreign arms aid program, declaring that peace "can not be bought cheaply."

He carried his case for senate restoration of the cut before thousands of cheering delegates to the Golden Jubilee convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in flag-bedecked, bunting-draped Diner Key auditorium.

The auditorium was crowded to overflowing as Mr. Truman entered to the strains of "Hail the Chief."

In a world upset by Soviet pressure, he said, the arming of friendly nations is "part of the price of peace."

He asked approval of funds to give military aid to democracies "without delay."

The President drove to the auditorium from the airport through crowds lining highways who waved and cheered him on.

Mr. Truman's staff included Major General Harry H. Vaughan, army aide. Senator Popper (D-Fla.) welcomed the chief executive with Gov. Fuller Warren and shook hands warmly with Vaughan.

The President left again for Washington at 12:32 p. m. Mr. Truman perspired as he spoke in a temperature in the mid-80's here. In Washington, where he took off less than four hours earlier, the weather had been chilly.

He said the United States congress vote to help Greece and Turkey against Communist pressures "preserved the integrity" of both countries.

Departing from his prepared text at one point, the President asserted that "in two instances, if we had been ready, there would have been no war."

"Which is better," he asked at another point, "to make expenditures for peace or to risk all our resources in another war?"

Mr. Truman was presented the VFW Certificate of Merit in recognition of his efforts as President to preserve world peace.

He responded: "I want to express my very sincere appreciation for all the honors which I have received. I realize that I deserve it and will work sincerely to achieve all it represents."

In his address, the President described the goal of the arms program as prevention of aggression. "We are not arming ourselves and our friends to start fights with anybody," the President said.

Hurricane Headed Toward Florida From Atlantic

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 22.—(AP)—A small Atlantic hurricane—the first of the season—roared toward the Florida coast today.

The weather bureau here said the hurricane, probably increasing in size and intensity, was centered at 5 a. m. (EST) (4 a. m. CST) about 400 miles East of Nassau.

Grady Norton, the weather bureau chief here, forecast here said the hurricane was moving west-northwestward at a forward pace of 15 to 17 miles an hour, a slower pace than the 20-miles in the northeast.

In an 11 a. m. (10 a. m. CST) advisory, Norton said the hurricane had increased slightly in size and intensity and probably would continue to increase.

Hurricane winds estimated at 90 miles an hour whirled around the center of the doughnut-shaped disturbance. They extended outward 30 to 40 miles from the center and gales extended 75 to 100 miles in the northern semi-circle.

The weather bureau pinpointed the disturbance at 5 a. m. (EST) near latitude 25.4 north and longitude 70.7 west.

Chief Storm Forecaster Grady Norton warned it may increase in size and intensity.

If the hurricane continues its present course, Norton said, it will pass north of the Bahamas and Miami.

The storm was first spotted about 350 miles north of Puerto Rico Sunday morning.

Electric Thinker—

Machine Is Rival To Human Brains

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22.—(AP)—The long dreamed of day of the thinking machine may be nearer than you imagine.

Scientists have invented an electrical monster that can perform any mathematical exercise and can memorize more than 500 numbers.

This giant brain is known as the Binao. It is the second electronic brain created by J. Presper Eckert, Jr., 30, and John W. Mauchly, 42, former University of Pennsylvania physicists.

Details of the Binao were disclosed yesterday. Eckert and Mauchly put the machine through a test run in which it did 500,000 additions and 200,000 multiplications in two hours.

The machine would have taken years to do the same computing.

Eckert said it isn't true that the machine can think right now. But in the future?

"We don't know that it's impossible for these machines to think," said Eckert.

Eckert and Mauchly now are at work on their third automatic computer. That one will be called the Univac and it will be far superior to either of the others.

Univac will be able to do almost anything. The first two Univacs produced will play each other a game of chess. Eckert said they may even be able to write music.

The key to Binao's operation is its memory. Eckert and Mauchly refer to the machine as if it were human. The numbers memorized each are addressed and the electrical pulses which pick out the numbers to be computed are called messengers.

It operates like a merry-go-round. Mauchly told reporters. He said that 512 numbers, fed into the machine on magnetic tape, are sent into channels in mercury tanks. The machine is given its instructions in the same way. "The instructions tell the messengers to get the number living in location 322, for example," Mauchly said. "They pick him up and carry him to the computing machine."

Then they get the number in location 143 and take him to the computing machine too. These two operations take less than one-thousandth of a second.

The computing device can add or subtract 3,000 times a second. It can make 1,000 multiplications or divisions a second. Binao also takes square and cube roots and squares and cubes numbers.

THINKING ABOUT SCHOOL

When the middle of August shows up on the calendar it is almost time for school. It is time, indeed, for every parent and every child to begin thinking about it.

First, does the parent understand the full importance of school to the child? Can he make it plain? For school is a child's job. He must be ready in mind to do the job well, every day and every week. If he is, the exams and report cards will take care of themselves. Every class is an opportunity to learn something new and useful. If it were not good to learn, it would not be in the course. If a lesson is hard, it's like a hill to be climbed. Dig in and climb. When you get to the top and look back you'll see why you worked so hard. The distant view is worth it.

Second, is his body ready for the hard work? Has the family doctor looked him over lately? The dentist, the eye doctor? It makes such a difference if a child is well, if he can hear well and see well and doesn't have headaches or any other troubles. If the small troubles are corrected early, they will not turn into big ones.

Then a few new clothes are in order. Whether the youth be six or 16 it gives confidence to have a shirt and tie that's right, good shoes.

POLITICAL FISHPOND

Who will be the next Democratic presidential candidate? Political commentators, after their usual habit, are speculating on this when there is nothing else in particular to write about. One possibility discussed recently by Doris Fleeson in her syndicated column was Fred M. Vinson, chief justice of the United States Supreme Court.

A New Dealer whose Kentucky residence would help to hold recalcitrant Southerners in line, Vinson has had varied experience. Besides many years in the House of Representatives, he has been a judge of the U. S. Court of Appeals, and during the war was one of the most used and useful of Washington officials, serving as Federal Loan Administrator, director of the Office of Economic Stabilization and director of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconstruction. Before his appointment to the Supreme Court he was secretary of the treasury.

Drawing on the court for a candidate is more often talked about than done. In 1916 the Republicans drafted Charles E. Hughes. As he had been on the bench during the bitter 1912 feud between President Taft and ex-President Theodore Roosevelt, he was not involved in any factional fight, and his record as a reforming governor of New York added to his attractiveness. His defeat, however, cooled the ardor of party leaders to make the Supreme Court a political fishpond.

Earlier, John McLean, justice from 1829 to 1861, was often mentioned for the presidency, especially in 1866 when the new Republican party was looking for a well-known man to lead it. Chief Justice Salmon P. Chase, who served from 1864 to 1873, notoriously hankered after the presidency, and was strongly backed in the 1868 Democratic convention.

YOUTH AND AGE.

Goals for youth to strive to gain, Fame and fortune to attain. Have no doubt of this, my boy: In success are pride and joy. But you'll learn what I was told, Love is best when you are old.

Strive for any goal you choose While you have the strength to use.

While you've courage, unafraid, Stand to every challenge made. But more precious than is gold, Will be love when you are old.

Ambition for the young was meant. Never should they be content. While they've strength, from day to day.

They should seek the better way. But when old they sit to rest, They will find that love is best.

To your goal, while you are strong.

Boy of mine take love along. Keep in mind in all you do. Those who put their faith in youth, Wealth is slippery; hard to hold. Love is best when you are old.

The Vinson talk may not get anywhere. It is still too early to know either issues or candidates. Offhand, some of the numerous flock of Democratic governors seem more likely choices.

NEW GREAT-GRAND-MOTHER.

About the last idea that thought of Mrs. Roosevelt calls up is that she is a great-grandmother. Yet she has just attained that honor, a son having been born to Mrs. Van H. Seagraves of Portland, Ore. How time flies is shown by the fact that this unfamiliar name belongs to "Sister" Dali, who, with her tiny brother "Buzzie," romped across the White House grounds when her grandfather was president.

Mrs. Roosevelt a great-grandmother! Though the record shows that she is 65, no one would believe it who observes her numerous and tireless activities.

DUTCH PROBLEM

The Dutch, severely cramped in their home country, have for more than 300 years been dependent on their Indonesia colonies for raw materials and other imports.

As the time nears for a showdown on the question of independence for Indonesia, the Netherlands are beginning to realize the implications of the negotiations. A round-table conference on the problem is soon to be held at The Hague, attracting 150 Indonesian delegates, as well as members of the United Nations Commission and observers. The critical point of the negotiations will be reached after several weeks of preliminary discussion. A sharp difference of opinion already exists on how soon the colonies should be granted complete independence.

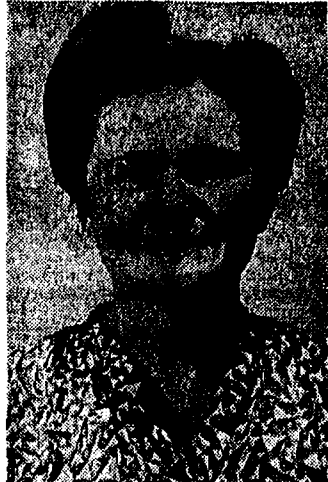

The Dutch cannot be blamed for their reluctance to give up so fruitful a source of income, and one on which their present prosperity is based. Neither are the Indonesians at fault for desiring political independence. The question of human rights is inextricably bound up in economic conditions, in this case as in many others.

THE INDUSTRIAL TEAM

When businesses were smaller and life correspondingly simpler, friendliness between employer and employee was taken for granted. Cooperation was common, and it was not until industry boomed that a gulf developed between owner and worker. This split has now become in many cases too wide to shout across, and strikes and failures have followed.

In counseling beginning workers much emphasis is laid on a pleasant attitude and pleasing personal qualities. At a series of talks conducted at the University of Chicago, employers were urged to allow workers to develop their own thoughts, to appreciate good work done and to acquaint their employees with company goals.

It cannot be stated too often that harmony between management and labor is based on such simple techniques. Barriers arise from the over-elaboration resulting from the huge size of many modern industries. Personnel methods should seek to reduce the distance between owner and worker.

"We are building our defenses so that we won't have to fight." He spoke before the Golden Jubilee convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars after an 822-mile flight here from Washington. He planned to fly back immediately. The President blamed Russian tactics in the United Nations and elsewhere for the need to arm friendly nations "to resist aggression."

"Russia, the President declared, 'has blocked every effort to establish an effective international police force and to free the world from fear of aggression.'"

"For the President, he went on, 'we have to join other friendly nations in forming regional defense pacts.'"

Efforts of senate leaders to restore the $550,000,000 the House voted last week from the $1,160,000,000 set aside for western Europe in the arms proposal, were underway in Washington. They faced opposition from a determined group of economy bloc and others who argued that the full sum until they are satisfied the nations to be helped will work together.

The President condemned Communism as "the chief claimant of the 'universal desire for a better life.'"

Instead, he said, it "tunes men by false promises back to tyranny and slavery."

The President made no reference to the plight of Communist-controlled China. A new American policy concerning that country is in course of study at the state department.

Elsewhere the Philippines and Korea, the two young republics in the far East, "need military assistance if they are to maintain their national security."

While most of the aid sought in the arms program would go to the Atlantic treaty countries, he said the Philippines and Korea will share like others "whose security is important to world peace."

He must continue our aid to Greece and Turkey," Mr. Truman said. "We should help Iran maintain its firm stand against Soviet pressure."

Mr. Truman said military aid is part of the policy of helping European economic recovery. He conceded it was costly, but said "it represents an investment in security that will be worth many times its cost." And he said it is "part of the cost of peace."

Unless the Democrats stand together to weld a defense structure strong enough to prevent another conflict, he said, they can be taken over "one by one."

Contrasting United States efforts to aid other countries with those of Russia, the President cited U. S. support of the United Nations, and its aid to Greece and Turkey in 1947 which "preserved the integrity of both countries."

He said the Marshall plan recovery program prevented general chaos in Europe.

The President applauded the signing of the pact of Rio de Janeiro binding North and South America together in a defense alliance and compared this with the Atlantic defense pact.

"The next task," he said, "is to back up this principle with military assistance to European nations, and to certain other nations, which are unable to build up their defenses without outside help."

He said the help would be extended in three forms, (1) by aid to these nations in increasing military production, (2) by transferring to them essential military equipment and (3) by sending experts to help train and equip their military forces.

$540,000 Bond Issue Being Sought For Junior College

By CLYDE E. JOHNSON
 Daily Sun Staff

Plans for a $540,000 bond issue to provide a permanent home for Navarro Junior College were disclosed at a public hearing in the courthouse Thursday night.

Petitions to the board of trustees, asking that an election be called to issue bonds, were filed at the meeting following a round-table discussion on the college's future.

In conducting the session, Board Chairman John Corley pointed out that what is done with Navarro Junior College when the present lease expires in 1952 is for the people of Navarro county to decide.

About 40 persons attended the meeting, and unanimous approval to continue the three-year-old institution at a 46-acre site on west Highway 31 was indicated.

The 46 acres already owned by the college, the tract is located at the western edge of the city limits. "We do know that we've got to move," he declared.

Plans so far call for a main building cost between $325,000 and $350,000, a science building to cost between $85,000 and $75,000, and rehabilitation of present buildings and equipment.

Corley said that about $540,000 is the estimate and get it built," Corley said.

The proposed bond election would levy a total of 28c on the $100 valuation.

Following is the petition in circulation:

"TO THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE NAVARRO JUNIOR COLLEGE:

We, the undersigned property taxpayers residing in the Navarro Junior College District, in Navarro County, Texas, hereby petition the Board of Trustees of such District to call an election for the purpose of voting on the issuance of bonds for the construction and equipment of school buildings for such college, and for the levying of taxes for the maintenance thereof, and to provide for the interest and sinking fund of such bonds.

"The amount of such bonds shall be in the sum of $540,000, same to bear interest at a rate not to exceed three (3) percent per annum, and to mature in serial annual installments over a period not to exceed twenty years from their date.

"The amount of taxes to be levied for the interest and sinking fund on said bonds shall not exceed twenty cents on the One Hundred Dollar valuation of property in the Junior College District, with an additional eight cents on the One Hundred Dollar valuation of such property for maintenance."

Rep. Jerry Stockard advised the group that the college should have a permanent site, adequate home by the time the next legislative session is revealed.

"The number of junior colleges has been increasing rapidly," he declared, "and a legislative committee will make recommendations for districting the state at the next session."

"It is imperative that this community start a building program for the college," he said.

NJC President Ray Waller said indications were the college would have over 300 students enrolled this year. This compares with 223 the first year, 274 the second and 287 the next year. Enrollments are steadily increasing, he pointed out, with an additional 70 to over a 100 students in classes each summer.

Enrollment of veterans is decreasing, Waller said not more than 30 GI students were expected this year. There were 150 veterans enrolled the first year, 103 the second and only 50 the past term, he reported.

"Practically all of our enrollment is from Navarro county," the college president said. "And about 50 percent give their addresses as Corsicana or a Corsicana rural route."

Corley predicted that the enrollment would jump 20 per cent at the new, proposed site because the college's present location is disadvantageous.

After a few pep talks, listing the problems, needs and progress of the college, Corley asked the group if anyone opposed the bond election. There was no answer, and he passed out the petitions.

Plans are too immature now to say when the election will be held. Comments of various citizens attending the meeting were:

W. V. Harrison, superintendent of Frost schools: "The legislature has done a wonderful job for the state's junior colleges, but we shouldn't depend on the legislature for everything. I can assure you of my community's support of Navarro Junior College."

B. W. Woolley: "I don't believe in depending on state aid or federal aid. I think we've got to sell the people on the idea of local support."

Mrs. J. W. McAdams: "It has meant a lot to parents and boys and girls to have the college here."

Mrs. Festus Pierce: "I think we should do everything we can." Ralph Brown: "We should emphasize that the college no longer is a GI school. The county's vote will determine the outcome of the bond election."

W. H. Norwood: "This is an opportunity to do something at home for good business proposition to support it."

John Mitchell Freeman, aged 79, died suddenly at his home in Angus Thursday afternoon following a stroke.

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon from the McCann Funeral Chapel. Burial was in the Hamilton cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. J. Fletcher, Baptist minister.

Surviving are a brother, H. M. Freeman, Fort Worth; a sister, Mrs. Annie Stuckey, San Antonio; two nephews, whose names are, Pierce and Leland Dockery, both of Angus.

Funeral services were W. H. Thorne, J. Stewart, W. L. Stewart, B. C. Thorne, C. F. Newman and H. D. McCrory.

country undisturbed.

Some Russians in Yugoslavia, however, Borba said, were involved for Soviet intelligence service against Socialist Yugoslavia.

BERLIN, Aug. 22.—(UP)—German Communists who hate Russia formed a new splinter party today and promptly sent Yugoslav Premier Marshal Tito a message of support.

A spokesman for the group claimed 4,000 active members in the Russian zone of Germany and another 800 in the Western sectors of Berlin.

Fifty former members of the Communist party and Socialist unity party (SED) announced they had broken away at a meeting in the French sector of Berlin and were forming a "Free Communist Party."

Karl-Heinz Scholz, 41-year-old engineer and veteran German Communist underground campaigner, told a reporter in an interview: "We have formed to fight imperialism and Bolshevism. The so-called internationalism of Soviet Russia is a fraud. We reject any plans for a dictatorship over the people."

It was the first report of a German Communist revolt against Soviet domination similar to the breakaway last year of Marshal Tito in Yugoslavia.

Scholz said the free Communist Party (FKP), like Tito's Communists, will continue to support Marxist Communism, but resist and dictate from the Kremlin.

Yugoslavia was expelled from the Cominform last summer for "nationalistic" deviations from the line laid down by Russia.

sion of an inter-continental bomber was so enormous as to justify going in and taking the chance of failure, just as was done in developing the atomic bomb which this plane is designed to deliver.

Even after rehabilitation of western Europe's political, economic and military strength, Spaatz said, the B-36 and the atomic bomb "will still be the most potent instruments for maintaining a balance of power."

Spaatz told the committee that members of the senior officer board which ruled on the bomber development was "invincible" in its efforts to play favorites among plane manufacturers.

Asked whether political influence would affect recommendations of the board, Spaatz said: "That would not enter into it at all."

To a request from Rep. Durham (D-NC) for comment on the advantages of this sort of retired general replied:

"I think that it is one of the unfortunate parts of this sort of thing that it is the ability of the B-36 to do its job forces the air force to give more and more information to the congress and the public to get appropriations for the B-36. All that gives information to the enemy and the consequences are obvious."

"I think one of the greatest disadvantages of the B-36 has been given by these anonymous charges against the B-36 which have resulted in dragging out into open view these figures on performance that should be kept away at a meeting in the French sector of Berlin and were forming a 'Free Communist Party.'"

Karl-Heinz Scholz, 41-year-old engineer and veteran German Communist underground campaigner, told a reporter in an interview:

"We have formed to fight imperialism and Bolshevism. The so-called internationalism of Soviet Russia is a fraud. We reject any plans for a dictatorship over the people."

Scholz said the free Communist Party (FKP), like Tito's Communists, will continue to support Marxist Communism, but resist and dictate from the Kremlin.

Yugoslavia was expelled from the Cominform last summer for "nationalistic" deviations from the line laid down by Russia.

General Muir S. Fairchild, vice chief of staff of the air force, followed Spaatz. Next came Lt. Gen. Harold A. Craig, deputy chief of staff for material. Also on the witness line were Lt. Gen. Lauris Norstad and Gen. D. H. H. Fairchild, who was acting as chairman at a meeting of the senior officers board last February 21 at which it was decided to speed up the production of B-47's, continue the B-36 program and cancel plans to build up a force of B-34 all-jet bombers.

He said the decisions were unanimous.

Committee Attorney Joseph B. Keenan asked whether Fairchild was influenced by any other considerations than patriotic performance of his duty.

"Not in the slightest degree," he replied.

"And in particular any political influence?" Keenan continued.

"None whatever," Fairchild replied.

The answer was the same to questions as to influence by Floyd Odlum, or other officials of Consolidated Vultures, which makes the B-36, or representatives of other aircraft manufacturers.

The petition alleges that since then the Dallas bookies have been furnished their information from the Fort Worth wire service by numerous open private telephone connections. Notice to remove these local telephones has been given to the telephone company by the Fort Worth police department.

The State's petition, prepared by Assistant Attorney General Willis Gresham, charged that "Coggins' operation of a sports news service is a subterfuge to hide" operations of aiding and assisting bookmakers in the pursuit of their business by furnishing prompt and necessary racing information.

A similar suit was filed against Western Union in 1941 and an injunction obtained by then-Attorney General Gerald Mann. Coggins was not involved in that suit.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 22.—(UP)—Western Union does not handle horse racing information unless the bettor agrees not to use it for betting purposes, an official of the company said here today.

"To my knowledge," said L. A. Swensen, general manager for eight years, "Western Union has not sent racing information anywhere except on a leased wire. And when a person leases such a wire, he has to agree not to use the information for betting purposes."

A suit filed against Western Union in Austin by Atty. Gen. Price Daniel charged that a Little Rock, Ark., man has been receiving race information from Texas over Western Union wires under "exclusive agreement."

"If this has been happening," said Swensen, "I haven't known about it. Western Union wouldn't make private arrangements for such a thing."

Free Booklet On Cancer Is Now Available

Today's best weapon against cancer is as close to you as the Corsicana postoffice. It's not on a table at the postoffice, the postmaster doesn't have any cancer literature on the shelves, but if you'll address a postcard or letter to: "Cancer", care of Postmaster, Corsicana, you'll receive a free booklet about cancer.

Last year the postoffice department in Washington decided to aid the national fight against cancer by authorizing a simple mailing address for all requests for cancer information. In a directive to post-offices all over the country the postmaster general instructed all postmasters to forward all mail addressed to "Cancer" to the state headquarters of the American Cancer Society.

In Texas, the Texas division of the American Cancer Society is located in Houston. Therefore, all Texas postoffices forward all mail addressed to "Cancer" to the Houston postmaster, who, in turn, sends it to the state office of the society. As soon as the cancer control workers in Houston receive the request, they forward cancer booklets and information to the persons mailing the inquiries.
